

SHOWS VALUE OF NEW EDUCATION

Dr. Frank S. C. Wicks Says it is to Teach That Wisdom is the Skill
in Art of Living.

CONTRASTS THE OLD AND NEW

Latter Makes Songs of Necessities
and Glorifies the Fundamentals,
He Declares.

"The new education is to teach us that wisdom is the skill in the art of living. The deduction that was confined to books, is now lifting us from the narrowness made by such learning and enabling us to live in the way that we will get the most out of body, mind and soul. Our very lives and not our minds are considered."

With these significant facts, Dr. Frank S. C. Wicks of Indianapolis began his lecture last evening at the Graham Annex, which was given under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Association. As a prelude to the lecture a beautiful solo was played by Miss Gladys Tittsworth on the violin and Miss Louise Poe sang an equally pretty selection. A fairly good sized crowd was present to greet the speaker. Dr. Wicks is an exceedingly clear and original thinker and polished speaker.

He said: "I do not claim to be an educator, but am speaking from the outside and judging from the reasonableness of the question. Every child is a bundle of possibilities, a living question mark. Take any child from a cultured home and put him into the environment of a Hottentot, he will become a Hottentot, perhaps a superior one, but still a Hottentot. In this power of environment, education is the supreme thing in life. Not until the time of Helen Keller has it been proved the possibilities of educating a child to the very finger tips."

Dr. Wicks then drew strong contrasts between the old and the new education. "The new education has eyes and ears and every other sense, the old had only memory," he declared. "The old education is as old as Plato, the new is as old as Aristotle who judged the universe from the solid material of facts. The new starts with the question of what are the demands of life and endeavors to fulfill these demands."

The five great advantages that the new education has to offer, Dr. Wicks then reviewed: "The first of these, is that it treats the child as a potential parent, fitting it for fatherhood and motherhood." He spoke of the education in the home in regard to his.

Secondly, "It fits the child for economic adjustment," he said:

"Man lives by bread, not by bread alone, but still he must know bread from the seed to the loaf. He must know how to do other things for which men will give him bread. Every girl as well as every boy should be trained for a bread earning education." Dr. Wicks complimented the vocational department of the Rushville schools saying, "Vocational training is a great help for those who go to work without graduation. The boys need not necessarily use their knowledge of carpentry to become a carpenter, but the skill

CANDIDATES SLOW FILING PETITIONS

Only One Seeking Democratic Nomination and Eight Republicans
Out For State Delegates.

FEBRUARY 16 IS THE LAST DAY

Candidates seeking to be delegates to the state conventions of the different political parties are rather slow in filing their petitions with the clerk of the court. So far eight Republicans and one Democrat have filed their petition asking that their names be placed on the primary ballot as candidates. The last day for filing these petitions is February 16.

The one Democrat that has filed his petition is Franklin D. Miles of Washington township. The Republican candidates announced thus are as follows: Noble township No. 1 and Union, James M. Smith and John F. McKee; Noble township No. 2 and Richland, John Ricketts; Anderson township, John W. Anderson; Center, John T. Bowles; Posey and Walker, Edwin K. Alsmann; Walker and Orange, George B. Covell; Rushville City, Robert S. Davis and Harley Frazier.

MEETING IS HELD UP UNTIL FRIDAY

Because of Lack of Quorum, Annual
Session of Chamber of Commerce is Postponed.

WEATHER KEEPS MANY HOME

Because of the lack of a quorum, the annual meeting of the Rush County Chamber of Commerce was not held Tuesday night but was postponed until Friday morning at nine-thirty o'clock when it was thought more business men could arrange to be present. The meeting will take place Friday morning in the court house assembly room and immediately afterward the new board of directors will meet and organize for the year.

There were fifteen members of the corporation out last night, but because of the disagreeable weather and conflicting engagements, no effort was made to get out the other ten for a quorum, twenty-five being the necessary number.

A list of ten names to be voted on for directors to succeed those whose terms expire this year is being prepared. It was also discovered that there were two vacancies among the hold-over directors, and these will also be filled at the meeting Friday.

IS PEEVED AT GRAY'S TACTICS

Candidate John M. Lontz Intimates
in Richmond Speech That Opposition is Unfair

REFERS TO CIRCULAR LETTER

Says Author Was Too Big a Coward
to Sign Name—"Bill" Class-
ifies Gray Opposition

That John M. Lontz, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress against Finly Gray, is a bit peeved at the method of the opposition is gathered from certain parts of his "maiden" effort as a speech-maker in Richmond.

A story in the Richmond Palladium on this topic refers to Judge George Gray of Connersville, brother of Finly, as a sly politician and speaks of his methods. Judge Gray, of course, was at the Lontz meeting, which brings to attention the assertion of a local Democrat the other day that it can be safely wagered that wherever Lontz goes, Judge Gray will be there also looking after "Brother Fin's" interests.

A Palladium reporter interviewed Judge Gray, who said that the meeting looked more like a Republican meeting than a Democratic one. "Seems funny to me," he is reported to have said, "that a Democrat would attack the only Democrat ever elected to congress from this district. Lontz's speech was a veiled attack on 'Fin' from start to finish."

Judge Gray denied that he knew anything of an attack on Lontz's supporters in the form of an unsigned circular letter circulated in Cambridge City. In concluding his speech Monday night Lontz exhibited a copy of the letter, which reads in part as follows:

"The two men at the head of and leading the opposition to Gray in Wayne county are men who have failed to receive post office appointments at Cambridge City and Richmond."

"Jack Harper was an applicant, with five or six others, for the post office at Cambridge City. Gray made an inquiry among the patrons and Democrats and recommended Mr. Straughn, the Democrat favored by the people. Mr. Harper is now at the head of the organization opposing Gray in Wayne county."

"R. O. Allen was an applicant with many others for the Richmond post office. After making an investigation Gray recommended Mr. Beck, he being found to be the choice of the patrons and Democrats. Mr. Allen has now opened headquarters in Richmond and is managing the opposition to Gray in that city."

In referring to this Lontz said: "A few nights ago such bills as these were shoved under doors in Cambridge City. This is an anonymous article. Its author was too big a coward to sign his name to it. It impugns the names of two of my supporters, two faithful Democrats. It seems to intimate that any opposition to Mr. Gray, now serving his third term, is nothing short of sacrilege. I hope I won't have to refer to this again. Can't we Democrats fight fairly with each other. Things like this disgrace our party. Let me say that if I go to congress it will not be by the gumshoe route. I will go with a full realization of the dignity of that high office."

In his speech Lontz referred to the fact that certain party workers had been engaged in an attempt to peture him as an enemy to the working man. "I was hardly expecting the subject to be first brought up in a Connersville newspaper," Lontz remarked.

He said he had been informed that

FIVE TEXT BOOKS MAY BE CHANGED

Contract in Five Branches in Public Schools Expire Within the
Year, it is Announced.

CONCERN PATRON'S POCKET

Letters Likely Will be Sent From
This County and Elsewhere

It has just been called to the attention of Rush county educators that five books, or rather the books in five branches of study in the common schools of Indiana, will either be contracted for again or go out of use within the present year. The books are the United States histories, the spellers, the geographies, the texts on physiology and the texts on English.

Altogether there are seven separate works, which have been under contract and for which the contracts expire on or before the first of next June. The situation is one which concerns the pocket of every school patron for if the contracts for these texts are renewed the old books will answer the purpose for next year, perhaps for more than one year to come. If the contracts are not renewed and contracts for other books are made, then the patrons, rich or poor, will have to pay for the new ones.

It is not doubted that this news will arouse the attention of Rushville and Rush county school patrons. In the past they have been forced to buy new books for their children, year after year, change after change, throwing away books which, according to every observation were quite as good as the new ones. That this school book business formerly amounted to a colossal and outrageous imposition is very generally believed, and nothing is more sure than that any move saving of a resumption of the abuse will be greeted with the bitterest kind of a protest.

While there is no organized effort here as yet to make sure the selection of the same books for another term of years, it is very probable that personal letters, scores of them, will be sent from Rush county and many other counties to the State Board of School Book Commissioners, of which board Charles A. Great-house, Superintendent of Public Instruction, is the president. Letters asking the selection of these books again would, it is presumed, do no harm, and they might do good.

The State Board of School Book Commissioners serves, or is supposed to serve and is paid liberally to serve, the people of Indiana. In such a case it would seem that letters, sent from patrons of the schools to the Board, would be the proper and natural advice of employers to the men they hire.

"I am absolutely certain the bill will pass; that is my answer to the steel barons' bluff" said Tillman.

TAKES FIRST STEP TO GET CURRENT

Milroy Light and Power Co., Gets Permission From Commissioners
to String Wires.

ANOTHER ROAD PETITION

The Milroy Light and Power company was granted permission to use the highway from this city to Milroy in erecting a line of electric wires by the county commissioners this afternoon. The petition was filed by Frank McCorkle, secretary of the company and is the first step toward securing electricity from this city.

The commissioners were in session for the purpose of allowing claims, but the meeting turned out to be a general business session. A petition containing 105 names asking for a gravel road between Glenwood and Falmouth was filed and the commissioners named February 28 as the time for a joint meeting of the commissioners of Rush and Fayette counties. The meeting will be held in this city. This is a county line road, affecting Union township, Rush county and Fairview township, Fayette county. The petition was filed here instead of Fayette county.

Residents of Orange township, Rush county and Liberty township, Shelby county were before the commissioners again asking information regarding a road they have petitioned for. Orange township is in debt and they were told that the road might be built in four or five years.

Ollie J. Cook, Charles Hugo and George McBride were appointed school fund appraisers.

Archie Allen is suffering with an attack of la grippe.

STATE TAX LAWS TO BE INDEXED

Are to be Put Into Such Shape That Taxpayers Can Quickly And Easily Understand Them.

THREE STEPS MAKE UP PLAN

Will Divide Sources of Revenue Into
Classes And Then Investigate
Each Class.

By DAN L. BEEBE
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 9.—Indiana's tax laws are to be taken off the shelf, dusted, indexed and summarized in so clear a way that the average tax payer can read them quickly and understand them.

The record of how the state, county and township administer these laws is going to be prepared, so that the tax payer can see at a glance what officials appointed and elected by him have been doing.

Then an attempt will be made to determine whether the high rate of taxation and the admitted lack of uniformity of taxation in Indiana is due to the laws or to the way they are administered.

These three steps make up the plan which Robert A. Campbell submitted to the commission on taxation appointed by Governor Ralston. Campbell has been employed to aid the commission. He is a student of taxation. His plan, said Chairman William L. Elder of the Commission, today meets with the approval of the commission.

Campbell has returned to Ithaca, N. Y., where he is lecturing on economics at Cornell University. The United Press, representative button-holed him during his brief stay in Indianapolis and got his own statement of the plan that may mean much in dollars and cents to the average Hoosier citizen.

Campbell will return June 15, and will bring with him a digest of Indiana's new tax laws, which he will prepare in his library. He also will be well fortified by detailed information on successful steps taken by other states in the reform of taxation.

Campbell has divided Indiana's sources of revenue into several natural groups and plans to investigate each. Taxation of real estate and improvements will be investigated as to whether it is so taxed that the burden falls equally on the big and little property owners, or whether some are escaping the burden which falls relatively heavier on another class.

Taxation of public utilities will be investigated to see whether they are bearing their share of the burden. Tangible personal property taxes will be taken up. There are many who think tangible personal property is bearing more than its share of the burden now, largely because

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out kidneys—
Drink plenty water.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Road to Health is Through The Kidneys

No person alive is stronger than his kidneys. The minute the kidneys become disarranged or clogged with waste the warning is flashed throughout the entire system. The greater part of all sickness today can be avoided by keeping the kidneys working properly.

Johnson's Drug Store, the popular druggists, can tell you of many well-known people in this city whom Solvax, the standard kidney remedy, has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit.

This remarkable kidney remedy is guaranteed to help the worst case of lazy, sluggish, or clogged-up kidneys, or the general headachy, kinkybacked, played-out condition that afflicts people suffering with kidney trouble. Solvax does not simply relieve. It aims to cure.

No other kidney remedy has made such a large percentage of cures as Solvax. It is so large that Johnson's Drug Store is perfectly safe in standing ready to refund the price to any customer whom it does not help.

Red hearts were also suspended about the room, which presented an attractive and festive appearance for the merry crowd of twenty-two that enjoyed the sumptuous pitch-in dinner. Pay up Week.

Some ingenious people have conceived the idea of a National Pay-Up Week, to be observed Feb. 21-26, when everyone should be exhorted to pay his debts. The American people need a little prodding on this point. They have a joyous habit of throwing bills into the waste basket that does not promote general business prosperity.

Not every one who lets his bills go unpaid is indifferent about it. Many people would gladly pay all they owe, could they collect the debts due them. But with many other persons, the more easily they could pay, the less ready they are to do it. It would make them very tired to sit down monthly and write off a dozen checks. By letting the bills run, they can do it all in one job. This saves them much hard work. Yet they may have idle money in banks.

Some business men allow bills to run to save a trifle of interest, losing which would offend their thrifty souls. Of course the creditor is meanwhile losing interest. But creditors are considered grasping creatures who have all the money they need.

A large percentage of the business failures are of people who would be perfectly solvent if they could collect their bills.

It is surprising how quickly a dollar will run around town. When you pay that long standing bill due the grocer, he is immediately able to settle with the butcher, who can now pay that old bill at the printer's. So it goes.

The net result is a new feeling of confidence and good will. In a general debt paying custom could be started during a Pay-up Week, a great many people would feel a new courage about their business future. They would buy more freely. A wave of new business would spread over the country. Let everyone do what he can toward it.

We Americans seem to be in some doubt as to what will happen "after the war." British manufacturers are not. They have bought twice as much raw wool as last year. The quantity on hand is far in excess of visible needs and greater than could possibly be used in making war supplies. The fact is that British factories know they have a free trade market awaiting them in America. In seven months after the Democratic wool tariff became effective, America increased her purchases of woolen goods nearly $21,000,000, or nearly $3,000,000 a month. The British manufacturer feels that they are safe in laying in a huge stock of raw wool, for they expect the American people to retain the Democratic President on the plea that "he kept us out of war."

H. R. Albee, Mayor of Portland, Oregon, formerly a member of the Progressive party, has announced that he will register this year as a Republican. "There seems to be nothing left for the Progressives to do but go back to the Republican party," said the Mayor yesterday.

"We broke away to accomplish a purpose and that purpose is accomplished as far as it ever will be."

Missouri closed the year 1915 with a deficit of $1,500,000. It had a Democratic state administration. There is evidently harmony between the state and national administrations on fiscal policies.

W. J. Bryan is raising lemons on his Florida farm. And we can guess who will be handed a few of them.

MAY BE PASTOR HERE.

Itinerant Merchants.

(Newcastle Courier.)

"The itinerant merchant pays no taxes; pays no licenses; pays no rent; has no local payroll; does not enrich, but rather drains the community. It has been suggested that there should be a co-operation of effort between commercial organizations and city authorities that will tend to lessen or entirely do away with these itinerant merchants. The local taxpaying business man should be protected."

The above quotation is from a bulletin of the Chamber of Commerce of Portland, Oregon. It is a true statement of facts and the business men of Newcastle are, or ought to be, interested in it.

The business men of every community and their city authorities should co-operate in protecting the taxpaying business from the non-resident whose only interest is to drain money out of the community and deprive home workers of their livelihood. This is a business matter—not politics.

In the larger affair of the nation, it is just as important that chambers of commerce co-operate with national authorities in protecting American business men from the non-resident who seeks to sell here the goods produced by foreign workers, thus draining our country and depriving our working people of a corresponding amount of profitable employment.

The Courier sees no distinction. If a city peddler's license is defensible, so is a national protective tariff. If national free trade is a sound economic policy, then we should repeal every law that imposes a license on peddlers. If our policy is to be "buy where you can buy the cheapest," let the foreign producers and itinerant merchants be given a cordial welcome. If chambers of commerce are to be enlisted in the fight against Americans who wish to go into neighboring states to sell their wares, let them also enlist in the fight against citizens of foreign nations who would come here and undersell our home producers.

Let us be consistent. Let us be for "America First," as we are for Newcastle first!

HOOSIER HISTORY

Prepared for the United Press by the Centennial Department of the Indiana Historical Commission.

The "Bloodyshirt" Appears.

In the meantime the split had come between President Johnson and the radicals. On returning to Indiana, Morton found the republicans "apathetic, despondent and demoralized," and the democrats hopefully aggressive. An election was coming on apace, which would decide the next senatorship. Prospects for democratic success were bright. The desperate situation was a challenge to Morton. He met it in the famous arraignment of his opponents for their disloyalty in a speech delivered June 10 at Masonic Hall, "a Philippic unequalled in modern times for the crushing fierceness of its invective." It was the appearance of the "bloody shirt" which was to wave in Indiana politics for a decade and more.

An old fiddlers contest will be held at the Mystic theater Thursday night. Prizes in cash and merchandise will be awarded.

I heard about Vinol and decided to try it and the results were marvelous, her appetite improved, she gained in weight, and is now one of the healthiest children in town. Mothers of delicate children should try Vinol."—Mrs. Gordon Jessup.

MAGNATES IN SESSION AGAIN

National League Resume December Meeting Which Was Abandoned For Peace Meeting

SCHEDULE WILL SOON BE MADE

Organized Ball Pretty Well Satisfied And is Now Bigger Than Ever Before.

(By United Press.)
New York, Feb. 9.—After peeking around the door from force of habit to see whether any Fed league satellites were camping upon their trail, the National league magnates suddenly remembered the Treaty of Cincinnati and sat down to their adjourned December meeting here today, in peace and at it.

It cannot be said, however, that "peace is in the form of a dove descended upon them." 'Twas no such benevolent bird as that. It may have been a blue jay, possibly a robin, but no dove.

The National magnates are pretty well satisfied today, though. They feel that the big battle is over and that Old General O. B. has withstood the onslaught of the outlaws nobly and victoriously; and that little now remains to be done but the shouting and the putting into practice of that ancient Jacksonian utterance: "to the victors belong the spoils." The spoils in this instance consists of a bevy of Fed players to be traded in or out or however the magnates see fit; and it's a pretty safe bet that the magnates won't see fit to trade the returned wanderers on any too advantageous bunch of terms.

Gen. O. B. has been pecked at and annoyed every once in a while by bothersome outlaw organizations of one sort and another, but never since the American League invented and glued itself to the National with indissoluble adhesive has any gang of outlaws given the General such a run for his money. Rovers of gold were the merest nothing to the Feds; and it must be confessed that after the General and his troops had floundered around in the glittering current for awhile, it had 'em worried, it had. That was proved when these same Magnates meeting here today, busted their confab right in the middle last December and skurried to Cincinnati to talk Peace.

It's all over now though and Organized Baseball believes it has come out of the battle bigger, stronger and better in every way than before the Feds appeared with the rising sun one morning a couple of years ago.

The annual schedule meeting of the National league will be held here today, also and tomorrow night at the Waldorf-Astoria, the 40th annual National league banquet will be spread.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS 2 GAMES THIS WEEK

Strenuous Time Ahead For Quintet Which Meets Liberty Friday and Greensburg Saturday.

BOTH GAMES WILL BE HERE

The Rushville high school team has two hard games scheduled for this week. On Friday night the Liberty team will be the attraction and on Saturday night the Greensburg team comes here. Both games will be played at the Graham Annex gym. These two games should give local fans plenty of sport, coming as they do in rapid succession.

The Liberty team defeated Rushville on the Liberty floor by the narrow margin of one point and as a result the locals are out for revenge. Liberty has lost but three games this year and the contest promises to prove one of the most interesting of the season.

The game with Greensburg will be the first meeting of the two teams in this branch of sport. Basketball was only recently started in Greensburg. The team has been putting up a classy game and a scrap can be expected. The Greensburg fans are figuring on running a special train for game in order to accommodate the crowd from there. The Greensburg game is not worrying the locals, as Greensburg lost to Shelbyville last Friday night and Rushville has one victory over Shelbyville to its credit.

BEGINS CAMPAIGN IN CASS COUNTY

James E. Watson Delivers Address at Huntington Tuesday Night and One at Roanoke at 10 a. m.

TWO CLUBS ARE ORGANIZED

James E. Watson spoke in Huntington Tuesday night and this morning began a two-day campaign in Cass county. Mr. Watson will spend Friday in Parke county and will attend the meeting of the Lincoln League at Terre Haute Saturday. Mr. Watson discussed the issues of the campaign in last night's address. The Watson for Senator club in Huntington was active for several days previous to the meeting and carried large display advertisements in the Huntington Herald.

The senatorial candidate arrived in Huntington Tuesday morning at eight o'clock, several Huntington Republicans greeting him. He spent a short time meeting his lieutenants and then went to Roanoke, Huntington county where he delivered an address at ten o'clock. SHOWS VALUE OF NEW EDUCATION they attain will be useful in any occupation. When I visit a manual training department, I feel like sneaking out with shame when I think how useless my hands are."

"He spoke of Alice Freeman Palmer, who had spend her life as an educator, but when she had a home of her own, she turned her education to that of a home maker and housekeeper. "That is the education of today," he commented.

"Again, social adjustment, is a result of the present education," he continued, "It helps the child to fit in the social machine. The first lesson in the art of living is given in the home where the child has to be unselfish and self sacrificing. There they should be educated for the world law that is to play the game on the square, and from the home they are sent out as co-operators."

To prepare the child for political adjustment, was the fourth advantage he cited. "Let us teach them to be citizens and be a part of the government. Before long, the women as well as the men will hold the ballot, and they too should be educated to answer intelligently the questions at stake in great political moves." In this connection, he pleaded that a passion for justice be taught the child and that each should see justice for himself, not through the eyes of some one else or through the voice of the newspaper.

"These four are necessities, but the fifth demand of the new education is a luxury, that is the spiritual side," he said. "This is the phase of education that brings art and music and literature into our lives and makes us strive for a higher type of these things. The new education makes songs of the necessities of life. It will glorify the fundamentals. It has already made a Kipling and a Whitman, who have put songs on the lips of labor. Culture makes life beautiful and the man with culture, mind and intellect is the master of the universe for everything has a message for him, and he is in tune with the universe. When we are all in such harmony, when Heaven and earth meet in our lives, such, in my mind, is the goal of the new education."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The meeting of the officers and teachers of the First Presbyterian Sunday school, which was to have been held this evening with Mrs. Lon Link, has been postponed on account of the illness of Mrs. Link. The meeting will be announced at a later date.

A pleasant time is anticipated by the young people of Milroy for Friday evening when a dance will be given there. Mitchell's orchestra of this city will furnish the music for the occasion, for which a great deal of interest has already been aroused.

The Army and Navy Register, a paper published at Washington, D. C., contains the following concerning Dr. G. B. Jones, a surgeon in the United States army, and his wife, both of whom formerly resided in Rushville: "Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Jones entertained with an informal dance on Saturday evening in honor of Miss Ballinger of Indianapolis, Ind. Negro fiddlers furnished the music for the old-time southern dances. The refreshments were in keeping with the quaint dances." Dr. and Mrs. Jones are now stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

MAPLE-GILBERT

Miss Grace D. Maple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Maple of north of Raleigh, and Luther B. Gilbert of Straughns were quietly married this morning at the Christian church parsonage by the Rev. C. M. Yocum. The young couple returned to Henry county to make their future home among their many friends there.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mrs. El Dill celebrated her seventy-first birthday yesterday by entertaining a few of her friends in the afternoon. During the pleasantly informal afternoon congratulations were given Mrs. Dill on the anniversary and the well spent life that it represented. Delicious refreshments were served as the guests enjoyed one another's company and the delightful occasion.

PLEASANT AFTERNOON

With Mrs. Russell Young of Orange as the considerate hostess, the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club in Orange had one of their most pleasant meetings yesterday afternoon. The afternoon hours were busy ones as the ladies plied their needles in the fancy work and engaged in lively chat. A delicious one course repast was served at the close of the event.

INTERESTING MEETING.

An unusually interesting meeting of the Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church is promised for tomorrow afternoon, when the ladies of the second division entertain with Mrs. D. D. VanOsdol as hostess. Each of the ladies of the entertaining division is allowed to invite one guest. The following program will be given:

Devotional and scripture reading—Mrs. Clint Bodine.
Song by the Missionary Quartette.
Paper on "Jacob Riis," by Mrs. F. G. Hackleman.
Reading, "The Happy Little Cripple,"—Miss Frances Frazee.
Duet by the Misses Kathryn Wood-en and Katherine Guffin.

PSI IOTA XI.

Mrs. Carl Gunning was the hostess for the members of the Psi Iota Xi sorority last evening, when they enjoyed a charmingly social gathering as well as a business meeting. Plans were discussed and practically completed for the Penny Supper to be given in conjunction with the Shakespeare Club on Friday evening, February 18th. The affair is for the benefit of the visiting nurse fund and the ladies of the Christian church have kindly consented for the girls to use the basement of the church for the supper. During the social chat following the business meeting a delicious one course lunch was served by the hostess. About twelve members of the sorority enjoyed the pleasant gathering.

SURPRISE PARTY

The seventieth birthday of William Lewark was the cause for a happy occasion, when a merry crowd of his friends, surprised him at his home in North Sexton street last evening. A delicious pitch-in supper was served, in which each of the guests had a hand in its success. Following the repast, games and social informality made the hours of the evening pleasant ones. With a profusion of potted plants, the rooms were made especially attractive. Mr. Lewark was the recipient of a number of beautiful presents and as many good wishes for his birthday.

ROOK PARTY.

Again Rook furnished an evening of pleasure for a company of young friends, when Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weidner entertained last Saturday evening. Not a moment lagged as the guests made merry over the card tables and participated in several other funmaking games. The personal touch of the hostess was apparent in the delicious luncheon served near the close of the delightful affair. In the congenial group of players were the Misses Vivian Kemple, Ida Redden, Frances Thompson, Letha and Edith Hungerford, and Lot Redden, Paul Hungerford, Watson Miller and Clarence Weidner.

BOB SLED PARTY.

The heavy snow and the invigorating chill of the evenings lately have been the cause for a number of bob-sled parties. One of the most pleasant of these was the jolly crowd of Milroy people who rode to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Brown, three miles from Milroy, and were entertained by them and their daughter, Miss Carrie Brown last evening. The ride itself was amusement enough, creating necessarily a pleasant informality, however, the hot oyster stew that was awaiting the guests made a complete evening. It was a two course supper and was greatly appreciated after the ride in the keen night air. Thirteen guests composed this pleasant crowd.

BRILLIANT DINNER

Miss Margaret Kelly proved her ability as a charming hostess last evening, in the beautifully appointed dinner party, with which she entertained a number of her young friends. A huge bouquet of red and white roses embellished the center of the festive board around which the charming group of young people were seated. Five faultless courses were served during the delicious dinner. The color scheme was also presented in the ice cream and mints. The affair ended with a visit to the movies and completed the pleasant even for the party which was composed of Misses Kathleen Luking and Mable Banks, attractive Connersville girls, Mary Ellen Carroll, Helen Osborne and Earl Osborne, Edmund Kelly, Will Michaels and Willard Bearly, the last two also from Connersville.

SHAKESPEARE DISCUSSED

"Shakespeare," was the inexhaustive topic, which the ladies of the Sorosis Club of Glenwood discussed yesterday afternoon, when they were entertained by Mrs. Ollie Britt at her home. The rooms were made to present a festive appearance for the happy gathering with beautiful and gay bunches of red carnations arranged tastefully in the rooms where the ladies were received. Responses to the roll call were quotations from Shakespeare. In her report of Current events, Mrs. T. E. Murphy gave the latest moves of the war and a short resume of the political position of our country today. The story of the "Merchant of Venice" was told by Mrs. Cora Paxton and several interesting comments made. Miss Jessie Jeffrey reviewed "Hamlet," making it especially interesting with personal opinions. Not a lunch, but a two course dinner was served at the close of the program. It was delicious and beautifully appointed. The guests, aside from the fourteen club members present, included Mrs. Mitchell of Liberty and Mrs. Cameron.

LADIES AID

Valentine colors, cleverly carried out, made the basement of the Christian church a pretty background for the meeting which was held there yesterday afternoon. With Mrs. John H. Frazee, Mrs. C. A. Mauzy, Mrs. O. E. Humes and Mrs. Edwin Payne as hostesses, with red crepe paper draped gracefully and a number of red hearts suspended from the ceiling, a beautiful scenic effect was created.

A good attendance was present to take part in the business meeting and to enjoy the social gathering during which sewing and interesting chat made the hours busy ones. The small tables, on which the guests were served, were placed in a letter A, representing the Aid Society. The room was lit by the red Valentine candles, which decorated each of these prettily set tables. Tiny red hearts were scattered here and there upon the tables and a bewitching little Valentine favor was at each place. The luncheon was delicious, and especially so because of the pretty surroundings. The Misses Marie Clawson and Mary Smith furnished several beautiful piano duets and solos, as the refreshments were served. Following this comic valentines with witty verses were distributed and caused much merriment as they were read.

COOKING AND SEWING FOUND TO BE INTERESTING STUDY

Paper on "Our Class Work in Domestic Science" by Nellie McClanahan, Which Was Read at the Orange Institute is Widely Praised.

The paper on the theme, "Our Class Work in Domestic Science," by Nellie McClanahan which was read at the Orange institute recently, has been widely praised by those who heard it. The paper follows:

This year in Domestic Science we have had a good time. In saying this I hope that no disparagement is cast upon our class spirit or management, but the highest praise bestowed upon each. Unless we get some enjoyment from a subject there is little reason for studying it. Last Fall I took Domestic Science merely to get the necessary number of credits and yet avoid Physics. I discovered, greatly to my surprise, that I almost liked the study of cooking and sewing, although I had formerly regarded a life filled with the routine of housework to be as tedious and monotonous as breaking stone under the warden's supervision, up at Michigan City.

Our class is composed of ten girls, recruited from the seventh, eighth, ninth, and eleventh grades, and ranging in age from twelve to sixteen years. This dissimilarity—unfair since it gives the older girls a slight advantage—is unavoidable because no other arrangement is possible. We have a forty-minute recitation period each Thursday and Friday and take cooking and sewing on alternate weeks. In both subjects the work is in two divisions; lectures and experiments; that is, theory and practice.

When we began lecture work in sewing we studied textiles in a general way and then learned the conditions surrounding the growth and manufacture of each of the four fabrics, cotton, linen, silk, and wool. From this we proceeded to the history of spinning and weaving and found that weaving probably began with the mats and baskets which the pre-historic women made of rushes—how the people of the Orient wove fine linens and tapestries on their crude looms, many hundreds of years ago—in what manner the spinning wheel and loom were used by the early New Englanders—and, lastly, we reviewed the slow evolution of methods which resulted in the complex, high-powered machinery found in modern mills. We girls always bring paper and pencils to class so that we may take notes on the more important topics. Then we spend considerable time trying to read at leisure what we have written in haste. As much as can be deciphered is copied in our notebooks, and our creative faculties are used for determining the remainder. I recommend this course as very stimulating to the imagination.

We have had less of actual sewing than of lecture work. At the beginning of the term the younger girls were taught the eight fundamental stitches. Later we hem-stitched and embroidered, the guest towels which are on exhibition here today.

In our lecture work on food we first studied the subject from a dietary viewpoint. We learned the five classes of food, nutrients; protein, fat, carbohydrates, water, and mineral matter—the part each plays in our physical well-being and the food-stuffs in which it is found. From this we succeeded to the different fruits and vegetables, their nutritive values, and their best methods of preparations. All this material is placed in our note-books, together with the recipes tested in the laboratory.

Our cooking lessons are usually very lively. When nearly a dozen girls are together in a small kitchen, two of them trying a new recipe, the others laughing, nibbling crackers, comparing bits of jewelry, and taking gymnastic exercise, perfect order should not be expected, and, in truth, is not demanded by that wise young woman who is our teacher. We are just a number of normal, fairly healthy, young animals, not the state militia at a public drill. What trifling offense we commit are due to the exuberance of youth and the laws of nature which, as some philosopher—was it not Rousseau?—has shown us, are the only laws, after all.

On the whole, our culinary experiments have been interesting rather than eatable, although there are marked exceptions to this sweeping statement. In order that I can not possibly be accused of boastfulness I shall tell only of our less fortunate attempts. You see, we usually spend more time bemoaning our failures than we do congratulating ourselves upon our good luck. That's human nature.

Once we made escalloped rice. There was nothing in particular the matter with this rice except that we left out the sale, which neglect gave it the flattest, most peculiar taste imaginable. But we fed some of it to the other teachers and they ate it manfully, with such determination that I have even since regarded them with increased respect. On another occasion we concocted tomato soup which, it is sad to relate, curdled. As this is not an extraordinary occurrence, it deserves no more than passing notice. A few weeks ago we planned to prepare prune whip, but in our temporary absence the prunes were scorched so much that they irreparably damaged the kettle and their odor permeated the school-house. It is almost unnecessary to state that the prune-whip was indefinitely postponed.

The cooking of the class is, as I have said, done by two girls. Two more, chosen at the teacher's discretion, afterwards wash the dishes and put things to rights. Strange to say, in the laboratory we are always imbued with the zeal for work, while under similar conditions at home we are afflicted with headaches or difficult history lessons.

All in all, we're not a model class—as you've probably concluded several paragraphs ago. At the beginning of the term a few pupils had a trying task in learning to wear their thimbles correctly. Most of us have a puzzling and rather provoking habit of losing our scissors and other sewing supplies at recitation time. Then we know how to sympathize with the three old women whom Perseus found in his quest of the Gorgon's head, who having but one eye in common among them had to pass it continually. Scattered through our note-books—which have been mentioned so often in this memorable class-history—are mistakes in spelling and in punctuation, in grammar and in sentence structure, which would drive an English professor crazy,—in fact, would drive almost any one crazy except our saintly instructor, who can make marginal corrections with a countenance, as serene as that of Mona Lisa.

Despite our occasional misdemeanors, which are mistakes of the head and not of the heart, we have taken this work seriously and profited by it. At least I have; and I am sure the other girls thing the same. Our class-work in Domestic Science has not been very practical in nature,—for we have too limited time and equipment to accomplish much along this line unless supplemented by home work—but it has aroused our interest in the principles of right-living. We have learned the underlying principles of sewing. Our study of cooking has made us realize that a balanced ration is just as essential for humans as for hogs. To what extent we shall actually use this knowledge of cooking and sewing I cannot say; I have no inclination to be class prophet. But this fact remains: that no matter what we do in future years the learning thus acquired will not come amiss, whether we become housekeepers, suffragettes, or lady hoboes.

Gums shrinking? Danger ahead!

Go now to a mirror and examine your mouth? Do your gums look "rinsed out," shrunken? Do you see a jagged appearance in the gum-line?

If so, see your dentist. He will tell you that you have pyorrhea, and that to save your teeth you will have to fight this dread disease at once.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Santanel Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Kokomo Farmer Declares Master
Medicine Tanlac Was Boon
to His Home.

ABLE TO DO HOUSEWORK

New Preparation Proves Its Efficacy
After Very Brief
Trial

Kokomo, Ind., Feb. 9.—"Tanalac helped my wife more than all other medicines she ever tried," Charles Sloan, a well known farmer who lives on rural route No. 6, Kokomo, said a few days ago.

"Mrs. Sloan has suffered from rheumatism for more than three years. Severe pains in her hips and limbs constantly bothered her, and would continue after she went to bed, so that it was seldom that she got more than three or four hours of actual rest. It was getting so that she hardly could get around, for, besides the rheumatism, Mrs. Sloan had stomach trouble, and her condition was very poor.

"Tanalac was so highly recommended that we decided to try it. She has taken three bottles of the medicine now, and is improved ever so much. She sleeps much better now; is able to walk around all she desires, and has improved so that she can work. Tanlac is the only one of the many medicines Mrs. Sloan tried, that has actually given relief."

Tanalac is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, and is a fine reconstructive tonic, proving of benefit to those suffering from the after effects of hard coughs, colds, la grippe and the like.

Tanalac is now sold exclusively in Rushville at F. E. WOLCOTT'S Drug Store.

WILL MAKES MANY SMALL BEQUESTS

Late Samuel Reeves Provides For
Division of His Estate Following
Death of His Wife.

FOUR CHURCHES REMEMBERED

The will of the late Samuel Reeves of Knightstown, formerly of Rush county, has been probated in the Henry circuit court. Mr. Reeves was killed by fumes from a hard coal burner about two weeks ago. The will of Mr. Reeves leaves the entire estate, after all debts are paid to his wife, Amanda Reeves, for her use as she sees fit, during her lifetime. After her death the estate is to be divided as follows, according to the terms of the will:

One thousand dollars each to the Christian church, the Friends church, the M. E. church, and Presbyterian church of Knightstown and the town library; $500 to his brother Aaron, and in case his brother is then dead it shall be divided among the children of the latter's grandchildren, the children of Ben Keith; $500 to his nephew, Munson Reeves, his sister Josephine Ellison, his sister, Genoa Trowbridge, his wife's nephew, Alva Rhodes, his wife's niece, Anna Walker and to his wife's niece, Eva Millikan. In case there is not enough of the estate to fill the bequests, two-thirds of what is left is to be used to proportion the first six bequests, and the last eight are to receive equal shares of the remaining one-third. No value has been placed upon the estate.

SECOND TEAM DEFEATED.

The Orange Independents defeated the Rushville high school second team last night by the score of 30 to 18. The local team was handicapped by the weight of the Orange team but put up a good game. Pierson and Meyers played a good game for Rushville.

STIVERS DROPS FROM THE RACE

Republican Editor of Liberty Becomes Candidate One Day and Withdraws the Next.

HIS TIME IS TOO LIMITED

Learns That Stage is Set For Warm

Contest Between D. M. Com-
stock and P. J. Lynch.

C. W. Stivers, editor of the Liberty, Ind., Herald, who made an announcement Monday of his candidacy for the Republican congressional nomination has announced his withdrawal from the contest. Ill health and lack of time to make a campaign are assigned as the reasons for his action. Stivers also admits that he does not desire to interfere in the fight for this nomination now being waged between Judge Comstock and P. J. Lynch. His statement follows:

To the Republicans of the Sixth District:

"Yielding to an honorable ambition and the suggestions of kind friends I filed my declaration of candidacy for the Republican nomination for congress with the secretary of state. It was my intention to have done this some time, since but illness prevented.

"Within the past week I have been in six counties of the district and have learned that the stage is set for a very warm contest between Judge D. W. Comstock of Wayne and Patrick J. Lynch of Henry with some degree of feeling because of what happened at the Cambridge City convention two years ago.

"Suffice to say that what I have learned within a few days, and in view of the limited time to put my candidacy before the voters of the district I have decided not to enter the race, and my name will not appear on the primary ballots. Imperative necessity of a united Republican party in this campaign is apparent to every voter who believes in the principles of the party of Lincoln and McKinley. Let us clear the decks and insure our country's welfare by carrying our standards to victory next November. With loyalty to our party and its chosen nominees."

The first division of the Pastor's Aid society of the Main Street Christian church will give a penny supper Friday evening, Feb. 11 in the basement of the church from 5 to 7 o'clock. Lots of good things to eat. Everybody invited. 285t3

HELP FOR WORKING WOMEN

Some Have to Keep on Until
They Almost Drop. How
Mrs. Conley Got Help.

Here is a letter from a woman who had to work, but was too weak and suffered too much to continue. How she regained health:—

Frankfort, Ky.—"I suffered so much with female weakness that I could not do my own work, had to hire it done. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I tried it. I took three bottles and I found it to be all you claim. Now I feel as well as ever I did and am able to do all my own work again. I recommend it to any woman suffering from female weakness. You may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. JAMES CONLEY, 516 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice,—it will be confidential.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE— DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive, and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

FATE OF SEVERAL VESSELS IN DOUBT

(By United Press.)

New York, Feb. 9.—Anxiety for the fate of several large passenger carrying trans-Atlantic liners was felt here today following the circulation of reports that a British ship had been captured or sunk in mid-ocean by an armed commerce raider; possibly the same that captured the Appam.

Steamship men believe the liner was the 5,358-ton Orissa from Liverpool. The Orissa left Chillian port on December 26 for Liverpool, stopping at Rio de Janeiro on January 10, and although she carried a first class wireless, no word has been heard from her according to advices received here. How many passengers she carried is not known.

a certain postmaster in a Wayne county town had recently made a pilgrimage to Richmond to tell "how hard I am on the laboring man." He said he did not see how any Wayne county postmaster at the present time could "leave his job long enough to eat or sleep, much less leave his post and go to another town to circulate malicious stories about a fellow Democrat whom he will have to vote for this fall." This sally was greeted with applause and laughter.

He added that men who had never in their lives paid a dollar of wages to a working man should not be the first to criticize him.

Lantz pointed out that there were boys in his shop earning $2.50 a day and that the two local lawnmower factories paid fifteen per cent higher wages than any other factories of the kind in the world. He invited any one to visit his factory to learn from his employees and from his books, the treatment he has accorded his men and the wages he has paid them.

STATE TAX LAWS TO BE INDEXED

cause it cannot escape the eyes of the assessors.

Intangible personal property, such as stocks and bonds, moneys and credits, mortgages, etc., will be considered. Because such personal property is not open to view and because much of it is listed as non-taxable there are many, who believe it does not bear its share. Campbell said the commission will ask the question, "are you trying to tax something that cannot be taxed properly and that never has been taxed?"

Railroads and interurbans, banks and insurance companies will surrender data from which will be learned whether they bear their share of the burden.

In every case the line will lead back to whether the fault is in the system or in the administration, if there is a fault, said Campbell. Campbell explained the Indiana system as based on the general property tax with a strong centralized administration. Assessments are regulated by a central authority that are paid liberally. The administration is divided into four branches, the state board, a tax commissioner the county board of review, the county assessor, and the township assessor.

BRANDEIS WINS HIS FIRST FIGHT

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 9.—Louis Brandeis, whose fitness for the supreme court bench is being investigated by a joint committee from the senate won his first scrimmage today when a motion by Senator Clark to drop the matter to the decision of the judiciary committee was defeated. Clark and Cummins, Republicans, favored the motion and Chairman Chailton and Walsh, Democrats opposed it. The entire committee is regarded as unfavorable to Brandeis, while in the sub-committee, it is believed, he has an even chance or better.

A crowd packed the committee room. There was not seats enough for half of the crowd.

"I charge that Louise D. Brandeis is guilty of breach of faith," declared Clifford Thorne, Iowa railroad commissioner, first witness before the senate sub-committee today. Thorne declared that the president's nominee betrayed a trust in one of "the gravest and one of the most important cases ever tried in this country," the five per cent rate case.

SHOWS VALUE OF NEW EDUCATION

Dr. Frank S. C. Wicks Says it is to Teach That Wisdom is the Skill
in Art of Living.

CONTRASTS THE OLD AND NEW

Latter Makes Songs of Necessities
and Glorifies the Fundamentals,
He Declares.

"The new education is to teach us that wisdom is the skill in the art of living. The deduction that was confined to books, is now lifting us from the narrowness made by such learning and enabling us to live in the way that we will get the most out of body, mind and soul. Our very lives and not our minds are considered."

With these significant facts, Dr. Frank S. C. Wicks of Indianapolis began his lecture last evening at the Graham Annex, which was given under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Association. As a prelude to the lecture a beautiful solo was played by Miss Gladys Tittsworth on the violin and Miss Louise Poe sang an equally pretty selection. A fairly good sized crowd was present to greet the speaker. Dr. Wicks is an exceedingly clear and original thinker and polished speaker.

He said: "I do not claim to be an educator, but am speaking from the outside and judging from the reasonableness of the question. Every child is a bundle of possibilities, a living question mark. Take any child from a cultured home and put him into the environment of a Hottentot, he will become a Hottentot, perhaps a superior one, but still a Hottentot. In this power of environment, education is the supreme thing in life. Not until the time of Helen Keller has it been proved the possibilities of educating a child to the very finger tips."

Dr. Wicks then drew strong contrasts between the old and the new education. "The new education has eyes and ears and every other sense, the old had only memory," he declared. "The old education is as old as Plato, the new is as old as Aristotle who judged the universe from the solid material of facts. The new starts with the question of what are the demands of life and endeavors to fulfill these demands."

The five great advantages that the new education has to offer, Dr. Wicks then reviewed: "The first of these, is that it treats the child as a potential parent, fitting it for fatherhood and motherhood." He spoke of the education in the home in regard to his.

Secondly, "It fits the child for economic adjustment," he said:

"Man lives by bread, not by bread alone, but still he must know bread from the seed to the loaf. He must know how to do other things for which men will give him bread. Every girl as well as every boy should be trained for a bread earning education." Dr. Wicks complimented the vocational department of the Rushville schools saying, "Vocational training is a great help for those who go to work without graduation. The boys need not necessarily use their knowledge of carpentry to become a carpenter, but the skill

CANDIDATES SLOW FILING PETITIONS

Only One Seeking Democratic Nomination and Eight Republicans
Out For State Delegates.

FEBRUARY 16 IS THE LAST DAY

Candidates seeking to be delegates to the state conventions of the different political parties are rather slow in filing their petitions with the clerk of the court. So far eight Republicans and one Democrat have filed their petition asking that their names be placed on the primary ballot as candidates. The last day for filing these petitions is February 16.

The one Democrat that has filed his petition is Franklin D. Miles of Washington township. The Republican candidates announced thus are as follows: Noble township No. 1 and Union, James M. Smith and John F. McKee; Noble township No. 2 and Richland, John Ricketts; Anderson township, John W. Anderson; Center, John T. Bowles; Posey and Walker, Edwin K. Alsmann; Walker and Orange, George B. Covell; Rushville City, Robert S. Davis and Harley Frazier.

MEETING IS HELD UP UNTIL FRIDAY

Because of Lack of Quorum, Annual
Session of Chamber of Commerce is Postponed.

WEATHER KEEPS MANY HOME

Because of the lack of a quorum, the annual meeting of the Rush County Chamber of Commerce was not held Tuesday night but was postponed until Friday morning at nine-thirty o'clock when it was thought more business men could arrange to be present. The meeting will take place Friday morning in the court house assembly room and immediately afterward the new board of directors will meet and organize for the year.

There were fifteen members of the corporation out last night, but because of the disagreeable weather and conflicting engagements, no effort was made to get out the other ten for a quorum, twenty-five being the necessary number.

A list of ten names to be voted on for directors to succeed those whose terms expire this year is being prepared. It was also discovered that there were two vacancies among the hold-over directors, and these will also be filled at the meeting Friday.

IS PEEVED AT GRAY'S TACTICS

Candidate John M. Lontz Intimates
in Richmond Speech That Opposition is Unfair

REFERS TO CIRCULAR LETTER

Says Author Was Too Big a Coward
to Sign Name—"Bill" Class-
ifies Gray Opposition

That John M. Lontz, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress against Finly Gray, is a bit peeved at the method of the opposition is gathered from certain parts of his "maiden" effort as a speech-maker in Richmond.

A story in the Richmond Palladium on this topic refers to Judge George Gray of Connersville, brother of Finly, as a sly politician and speaks of his methods. Judge Gray, of course, was at the Lontz meeting, which brings to attention the assertion of a local Democrat the other day that it can be safely wagered that wherever Lontz goes, Judge Gray will be there also looking after "Brother Fin's" interests.

A Palladium reporter interviewed Judge Gray, who said that the meeting looked more like a Republican meeting than a Democratic one. "Seems funny to me," he is reported to have said, "that a Democrat would attack the only Democrat ever elected to congress from this district. Lontz's speech was a veiled attack on 'Fin' from start to finish."

Judge Gray denied that he knew anything of an attack on Lontz's supporters in the form of an unsigned circular letter circulated in Cambridge City. In concluding his speech Monday night Lontz exhibited a copy of the letter, which reads in part as follows:

"The two men at the head of and leading the opposition to Gray in Wayne county are men who have failed to receive post office appointments at Cambridge City and Richmond."

"Jack Harper was an applicant, with five or six others, for the post office at Cambridge City. Gray made an inquiry among the patrons and Democrats and recommended Mr. Straughn, the Democrat favored by the people. Mr. Harper is now at the head of the organization opposing Gray in Wayne county."

"R. O. Allen was an applicant with many others for the Richmond post office. After making an investigation Gray recommended Mr. Beck, he being found to be the choice of the patrons and Democrats. Mr. Allen has now opened headquarters in Richmond and is managing the opposition to Gray in that city."

In referring to this Lontz said: "A few nights ago such bills as these were shoved under doors in Cambridge City. This is an anonymous article. Its author was too big a coward to sign his name to it. It impugns the names of two of my supporters, two faithful Democrats. It seems to intimate that any opposition to Mr. Gray, now serving his third term, is nothing short of sacrilege. I hope I won't have to refer to this again. Can't we Democrats fight fairly with each other. Things like this disgrace our party. Let me say that if I go to congress it will not be by the gumshoe route. I will go with a full realization of the dignity of that high office."

He said he had been informed that

FIVE TEXT BOOKS MAY BE CHANGED

Contract in Five Branches in Public Schools Expire Within the
Year, it is Announced.

CONCERN PATRON'S POCKET

Letters Likely Will be Sent From

It has just been called to the attention of Rush county educators that five books, or rather the books in five branches of study in the common schools of Indiana, will either be contracted for again or go out of use within the present year. The books are the United States histories, the spellers, the geographies, the texts on physiology and the texts on English.

Altogether there are seven separate works, which have been under contract and for which the contracts expire on or before the first of next June. The situation is one which concerns the pocket of every school patron for if the contracts for these texts are renewed the old books will answer the purpose for next year, perhaps for more than one year to come. If the contracts are not renewed and contracts for other books are made, then the patrons, rich or poor will have to pay for the new ones.

It is not doubted that this news will arouse the attention of Rushville and Rush county school patrons. In the past they have been forced to buy new books for their children, year after year, change after change, throwing away books which, according to every observation were quite as good as the new ones. That this school book business formerly amounted to a colossal and outrageous imposition is very generally believed, and nothing is more sure than that any move saving of a resumption of the abuse will be greeted with the bitterest kind of a protest.

While there is no organized effort here as yet to make sure the selection of the same books for another term of years, it is very probable that personal letters, scores of them, will be sent from Rush county and many other counties to the State Board of School Book Commissioners, of which board Charles A. Great-house, Superintendent of Public Instruction, is the president. Letters asking the selection of these books again would, it is presumed, do no harm, and they might do good.

The State Board of School Book Commissioners serves, or is supposed to serve and is paid liberally to serve, the people of Indiana. In such a case it would seem that letters, sent from patrons of the schools to the Board, would be the proper and natural advice of employers to the men they hire.

TAKES FIRST STEP TO GET CURRENT

Milroy Light and Power Co., Gets Permission From Commissioners
to String Wires.

ANOTHER ROAD PETITION

The Milroy Light and Power company was granted permission to use the highway from this city to Milroy in erecting a line of electric wires by the county commissioners this afternoon. The petition was filed by Frank McCorkle, secretary of the company and is the first step toward securing electricity from this city.

The commissioners were in session for the purpose of allowing claims, but the meeting turned out to be a general business session. A petition containing 105 names asking for a gravel road between Glenwood and Falmouth was filed and the commissioners named February 23 as the time for a joint meeting of the commissioners of Rush and Fayette counties. The meeting will be held in this city. This is a county line road, affecting Union township, Rush county and Fairview township, Fayette county. The petition was filed here instead of Fayette county.

Residents of Orange township, Rush county and Liberty township, Shelby county were before the commissioners again asking information regarding a road they have petitioned for. Orange township is in debt and they were told that the road might be built in four or five years.

Glenn J. Cook, Charles Hugo and George McBride were appointed school fund appraisers.

STATE TAX LAWS TO BE INDEXED

Are to be Put Into Such Shape That
Taxpayers Can Quickly And Easily Understand Them.

THREE STEPS MAKE UP PLAN

Will Divide Sources of Revenue Into
Classes And Then Investigate
Each Class.

By DAN L. BEEBE
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 9.—Indiana's tax laws are to be taken off the shelf, dusted, indexed and summarized in so clear a way that the average tax payer can read them quickly and understand them.

The record of how the state, county and township administer these laws is going to be prepared, so that the tax payer can see at a glance what officials appointed and elected by him have been doing.

Then an attempt will be made to determine whether the high rate of taxation and the admitted lack of uniformity of taxation in Indiana is due to the laws or to the way they are administered.

These three steps make up the plan which Robert A. Campbell submitted to the commission on taxation appointed by Governor Ralston. Campbell has been employed to aid the commission. He is a student of taxation. His plan, said Chairman William L. Elder of the Commission, today meets with the approval of the commission.

Campbell has returned to Ithaca, N. Y., where he is lecturing on economics at Cornell University. The United Press, representative button-holed him during his brief stay in Indianapolis and got his own statement of the plan that may mean much in dollars and cents to the average Hoosier citizen.

Campbell will return June 15, and will bring with him a digest of Indiana's new tax laws, which he will prepare in his library. He also will be well fortified by detailed information on successful steps taken by other states in the reform of taxation.

Campbell has divided Indiana's sources of revenue into several natural groups and plans to investigate each. Taxation of real estate and improvements will be investigated as to whether it is so taxed that the burden falls equally on the big and little property owners, or whether some are escaping the burden which falls relatively heavier on another class.

Taxation of public utilities will be investigated to see whether they are bearing their share of the burden. Tangible personal property taxes will be taken up. There are many who think tangible personal property is bearing more than its share of the burden now, largely because

Eat less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out kidneys—
Drink plenty water.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad. Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Road to Health is Through The Kidneys

No person alive is stronger than his kidneys. The minute the kidneys become disarranged or clogged with waste the warning is flashed throughout the entire system. The greater part of all sickness today can be avoided by keeping the kidneys working properly.

Johnson's Drug Store, the popular druggists, can tell you of many well-known people in this city whom Solvax, the standard kidney remedy, has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit.

This remarkable kidney remedy is guaranteed to help the worst case of lazy, sluggish, or clogged-up kidneys, or the general headache, kinkybacked, played-out condition that afflicts people suffering with kidney trouble. Solvax does not simply relieve. It aims to cure.

No other kidney remedy has made such a large percentage of cures as Solvax. It is so large that Johnson's Drug Store is perfectly safe in standing ready to refund the price to any customer whom it does not help. (Advertisement)

VALENTINE PARTY.

The losing side in the contest which has been taking place among the girls of Mrs. Ices' class of the Christian church, lived up to their side of the agreement last evening and entertained the members of the class with a dinner party at the home of Mrs. Ices on West First street. Strands of red ribbon were draped from the chandeliers to the clever little valentine place cards, that bore the names of the guests. Red hearts were also suspended about the room, which presented an attractive and festive appearance for the merry crowd of twenty-two that enjoyed the sumptuous pitch-in dinner. Following the dinner, Valentines were drawn from the Valentine box which were the cause of a great deal of jollity. A general frolic followed, when the girls played a number of games during the informal and delightful evening.

Pay up Week.
Some ingenious people have conceived the idea of a National Pay-Up Week, to be observed Feb. 21-26, when everyone should be exhorted to pay his debts. The American people need a little prodding on this point. They have a joyous habit of throwing bills into the waste basket that does not promote general business prosperity.
Not every one who lets his bills go unpaid is indifferent about it. Many people would gladly pay all they owe, could they collect the debts due them. But with many other persons, the more easily they could pay, the less ready they are to do it. It would make them very tired to sit down monthly and write off a dozen checks. By letting the bills run, they can do it all in one job. This saves them much hard work. Yet they may have idle money in banks.
Some business men allow bills to run to save a trifle of interest, losing which would offend their thrifty souls. Of course the creditor is meanwhile losing interest. But creditors are considered grasping creatures who have all the money they need.
A large percentage of the business failures are of people who would be perfectly solvent if they could collect their bills.
It is surprising how quickly a dollar will run around town. When you pay that long standing bill due the grocer, he is immediately able to settle with the butcher, who can now pay that old bill at the printer's. So it goes.
The net result is a new feeling of confidence and good will. In a general debt paying custom could be started during a Pay-up Week, a great many people would feel a new courage about their business future. They would buy more freely. A wave of new business would spread over the country. Let everyone do what he can toward it.

We Americans seem to be in some doubt as to what will happen "after the war." British manufacturers are not. They have bought twice as much raw wool as last year. The quantity on hand is far in excess of visible needs and greater than could possibly be used in making war supplies. The fact is that British factories know they have a free trade market awaiting them in America. In seven months after the Democratic wool tariff became effective, American increased her purchases of woolen goods nearly $21,000,000, or nearly $3,000,000 a month. The British manufacturer feels that they are safe in laying in a huge stock of raw wool, for they expect the American people to retain the Democratic President on the plea that "he kept us out of war."

H. R. Albee, Mayor of Portland, Oregon, formerly a member of the Progressive party, has announced that he will register this year as a Republican. "There seems to be nothing left for the Progressives to do but go back to the Republican party," said the Mayor yesterday. "We broke away to accomplish a purpose and that purpose is accomplished as far as it ever will be."

Missouri closed the year 1915 with a deficit of $1,500,000. It had a Democratic state administration. There is evidently harmony between the state and national administrations on fiscal policies.
W. J. Bryan is raising lemons on his Florida farm. And we can guess who will be handed a few of them.

Current Comments
Itinerant Merchants.
(Newcastle Courier.)
"The itinerant merchant pays no taxes; pays no licenses; pays no rent; has no local payroll; does not enrich, but rather drains the community. It has been suggested that there should be a co-operation of effort between commercial organizations and city authorities that will tend to lessen or entirely do away with these itinerant merchants. The local taxpaying business man should be protected."

The above quotation is from a bulletin of the Chamber of Commerce of Portland, Oregon. It is a true statement of facts and the business men of Newcastle are, or ought to be, interested in it.
The business men of every community and their city authorities should co-operate in protecting the taxpaying business from the non-resident whose only interest is to drain money out of the community and deprive home workers of their livelihood. This is a business matter—not politics.
In the larger affair of the nation, it is just as important that chambers of commerce co-operate with national authorities in protecting American business men from the non-resident who seeks to sell here the goods produced by foreign workers, thus draining our country and depriving our working people of a corresponding amount of profitable employment.
The Courier sees no distinction. If a city peddler's license is defensible, so is a national protective tariff. If national free trade is a sound economic policy, then we should repeal every law that imposes a license on peddlers. If our policy is to be "buy where you can buy the cheapest," let the foreign producers and itinerant merchants be given a cordial welcome. If chambers of commerce are to be enlisted in the fight against Americans who wish to go into neighboring states to sell their wares, let them also enlist in the fight against citizens of foreign nations who would come here and undersell our home producers.
Let us be consistent. Let us be for "America First," as we are for Newcastle first!

HOOSIER HISTORY
Prepared for the United Press by the Centennial Department of the Indiana Historical Commission.
The "Bloodyshirt" Appears.
In the meantime the split had come between President Johnson and the radicals. On returning to Indiana, Morton found the republicans "apathetic, despondent and demoralized," and the democrats hopelessly aggressive. An election was coming on apace, which would decide the next senatorship. Prospects for democratic success were bright. The desperate situation was a challenge to Morton. He met it in the famous arraignment of his opponents for their disloyalty in a speech delivered June 10 at Masonic Hall, "a Philippic unequalled in modern times for the crushing fierceness of its invective." It was the appearance of the "bloody shirt" which was to wave in Indiana politics for a decade and more.
An old fiddlers contest will be held at the Mystic theater Thursday night. Prizes in cash and merchandise will be awarded.

UP-TO-NOW IN DESIGN

Designs as shown by some firms are more or less freakish or fadish to attract the attention of the prospective customers with scarcely a thought of their wearing appearance or correctness in proportion. But then they are merely on paper and represent but a small loss if they don't take.

We have faith in our ability as-ractical designers and as proof we show at our works a most complete selection of ready to erect monuments designed by our nationally recognized designer.

MAGNATES IN SESSION AGAIN

National League Resume December Meeting Which Was Abandoned For Peace Meeting

SCHEDULE WILL SOON BE MADE

Organized Ball Pretty Well Satisfied And is Now Bigger Than Ever Before.

(By United Press.)
New York, Feb. 9.—After peeking around the door from force of habit to see whether any Fed league satellites were camping upon their trail, the National league magnates suddenly remembered the Treaty of Cincinnati and sat down to their adjourned December meeting here today, in peace and at it.

It cannot be said, however, that "peace is in the form of a dove descended upon them." 'Twas no such benevolent bird as that. It may have been a blue jay, possibly a robin, but no dove.

The National magnates are pretty well satisfied today, though. They feel that the big battle is over and that Old General O. B. has withstood the onslaught of the outlaws nobly and victoriously; and that little now remains to be done but the shouting and the putting into practice of that ancient Jacksonian utterance: "to the victors belong the spoils." The spoils in this instance consists of a bevy of Fed players to be traded in or out or however the magnates see fit; and it's a pretty safe bet that the magnates won't see fit to trade the returned wanderers on any too advantageous a bunch of terms.

Gen. O. B. has been pecked at and annoyed every once in a while by bothersome outlaw organizations of one sort or another, but never since the American League invented and glued itself to the National with indissoluble adhesive has any gang of outlaws given the General such a run for his money. Rovers of gold were the merest nothing to the Feds; and it must be confessed that after the General and his troops had floundered around in the glittering current for awhile, it had 'em worried, it had. That was proved when these same Magnates meeting here today, busted their confab right in the middle last December and skurried to Cincinnati to talk Peace.

It's all over now though and Organized Baseball believes it has come out of the battle bigger, stronger and better in every way than before the Feds appeared with the rising sun one morning a couple of years ago.

The annual schedule meeting of the National league will be held here today, also, and tomorrow night at the Waldorf-Astoria, the 40th annual National league banquet will be spread.

Notice of Final Settlement.

Notice is hereby given to the creditors, heirs and legatees of Sarah E. Pugh, deceased, to appear in the Rush Circuit Court, held at Rushville, Indiana, on the 17th day of February, 1916, and show cause, if any, why FINAL SETTLEMENT Accounts with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make proof of heirship, and receive their distributive shares.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS 2 GAMES THIS WEEK

Strenuous Time Ahead For Quintet Which Meets Liberty Friday and Greensburg Saturday.

BOTH GAMES WILL BE HERE

The Rushville high school team has two hard games scheduled for this week. On Friday night the Liberty team will be the attraction and on Saturday night the Greensburg team comes here. Both games will be played at the Graham Annex gym. These two games should give local fans plenty of sport, coming as they do in rapid succession.

The Liberty team defeated Rushville on the Liberty floor by the narrow margin of one point and as a result the locals are out for revenge. Liberty has lost but three games this year and the contest promises to prove one of the most interesting of the season.

The game with Greensburg will be the first meeting of the two teams in this branch of sport. Basketball was only recently started in Greensburg. The team has been putting up a classy game and a scrap can be expected. The Greensburg fans are figuring on running a special train for game in order to accommodate the crowd from there. The Greensburg game is not worrying the locals as Greensburg lost to Shelbyville last Friday night and Rushville has one victory over Shelbyville to its credit.

BEGINS CAMPAIGN IN CASS COUNTY

James E. Watson Delivers Address at Huntington Tuesday Night and One at Roanoke at 10 a. m.

James E. Watson spoke in Huntington Tuesday night and this morning began a two-day campaign in Cass county. Mr. Watson will spend Friday in Parke county and will attend the meeting of the Lincoln League at Terre Haute Saturday. Mr. Watson discussed the issues of the campaign in last night's address. The Watson for Senator club in Huntington was active for several days previous to the meeting and carried large display advertisements in the Huntington Herald.

The senatorial candidate arrived in Huntington Tuesday morning at eight o'clock, several Huntington Republicans greeting him. He spent a short time meeting his lieutenants and then went to Roanoke, Huntington county where he delivered an address at ten o'clock. A Watson for Senator club has also been organized at Roanoke, with Dr. S. Koontz as president.

they attain will be useful in any occupation. When I visit a manual training department, I feel like sneaking out with shame when I think how useless my hands are."

"He spoke of Alice Freeman Palmer, who had spend her life as an educator, but when she had a home of her own, she turned her education to that of a home maker and housekeeper. "That is the education of today," he commented.

"Again, social adjustment, is a result of the present education," he continued, "It helps the child to fit in the social machine. The first lesson in the art of living is given in the home where the child has to be unselfish and self sacrificing. There they should be educated for the world law that is to play the game on the square, and from the home they are sent out as co-operators."

To prepare the child for political adjustment, was the fourth advantage he cited. "Let us teach them to be citizens and be a part of the government. Before long, the women as well as the men will hold the ballot, and they too should be educated to answer intelligently the questions at stake in great political moves." In this connection, he pleaded that a passion for justice be taught the child and that each should see justice for himself, not through the eyes of some one else or through the voice of the newspaper.

"These four are necessities, but the fifth demand of the new education is a luxury, that is the spiritual side" he said. "This is the phase of education that brings art and music and literature into our lives and makes us strive for a higher type of these things. The new education makes songs of the necessities of life. It will glorify the fundamentals. It has already made a Kipling and a Whitman, who have put songs on the lips of labor. Culture makes life beautiful and the man with culture, mind and intellect is the master of the universe for everything has a message for him, and he is in tune with the universe. When we are all in such harmony, when Heaven and earth meet in our lives, such, in my mind, is the goal of the new education."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The Army and Navy Register, a paper published at Washington, D. C., contains the following concerning Dr. G. B. Jones, a surgeon in the United States army, and his wife, both of whom formerly resided in Rushville: "Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Jones entertained with an informal dance on Saturday evening in honor of Miss Ballinger of Indianapolis, Ind. Negro fiddlers furnished the music for the old-time southern dances. The refreshments were in keeping with the quaint dances." Dr. and Mrs. Jones are now stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

MAPLE-GILBERT

Miss Grace D. Maple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Maple of north of Raleigh, and Luther B. Gilbert of Straughns were quietly married this morning at the Christian church parsonage by the Rev. C. M. Yocum. The young couple returned to Henry county to make their future home among their many friends there.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mrs. El Dill celebrated her seventy-first birthday yesterday by entertaining a few of her friends in the afternoon. During the pleasantly informal afternoon congratulations were given Mrs. Dill on the anniversary and the well spent life that it represented. Delicious refreshments were served as the guests enjoyed one another's company and the delightful occasion.

PLEASANT AFTERNOON

With Mrs. Russell Young of Orange as the considerate hostess, the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club in Orange had one of their most pleasant meetings yesterday afternoon. The afternoon hours were busy ones as the ladies plied their needles in the fancy work and engaged in lively chat. A delicious one course repast was served at the close of the event.

INTERESTING MEETING.

An unusually interesting meeting of the Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church is promised for tomorrow afternoon, when the ladies of the second division entertain with Mrs. D. D. VanOsdol as hostess. Each of the ladies of the entertaining division is allowed to invite one guest. The following program will be given:

Devotionals and scripture reading—Mrs. Clint Bodine.
Song by the Missionary Quartette.
Paper on "Jacob Riis," by Mrs. F. G. Hackleman.
Reading, "The Happy Little Cripple,"—Miss Frances Frazee.
Duet by the Misses Kathryn Wood-en and Katherine Giffin.

PSI IOTA XI.

Mrs. Carl Gunning was the hostess for the members of the Psi Iota Xi sorority last evening, when they enjoyed a charmingly social gathering as well as a business meeting. Plans were discussed and practically completed for the Penny Supper to be given in conjunction with the Shakespeare Club on Friday evening, February 18th. The affair is for the benefit of the visiting nurse fund and the ladies of the Christian church have kindly consented for the girls to use the basement of the church for the supper. During the social chat following the business meeting a delicious one course lunch was served by the hostess. About twelve members of the sorority enjoyed the pleasant gathering.

SURPRISE PARTY

The seventieth birthday of William Lewark was the cause for a happy occasion, when a merry crowd of his friends, surprised him at his home in North Sexton street last evening. A delicious pitch-in supper was served, in which each of the guests had a hand in its success. Following the repast, games and social informality made the hours of the evening pleasant ones. With a profusion of potted plants, the rooms were made especially attractive. Mr. Lewark was the recipient of a number of beautiful presents and as many good wishes for his birthday.

ROOK PARTY.

Again Rook furnished an evening of pleasure for a company of young friends, when Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weidner entertained last Saturday evening. Not a moment lagged as the guests made merry over the card tables and participated in several other funmaking games. The personal touch of the hostess was apparent in the delicious luncheon served near the close of the delightful affair. In the congenial group of players were the Misses Vivian Kemple, Ida Redden, Frances Thompson, Letha and Edith Hungerford, and Lot Redden, Paul Hungerford, Watson Miller and Clarence Weidner.

BOB SLED PARTY.

The heavy snow and the invigorating chill of the evenings lately have been the cause for a number of bob-sled parties. One of the most pleasant of these was the jolly crowd of Milroy people who rode to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Brown, three miles from Milroy, and were entertained by them and their daughter, Miss Carrie Brown last evening. The ride itself was amusement enough, creating necessarily a pleasant informality, however, the hot oyster stew that was awaiting the guests made a complete evening. It was a two course supper and was greatly appreciated after the ride in the keen night air. Thirteen guests composed this pleasant crowd.

BRILLIANT DINNER

Miss Margaret Kelly proved her ability as a charming hostess last evening, in the beautifully appointed dinner party, with which she entertained a number of her young friends. A huge bouquet of red and white roses embellished the center of the festive board around which the charming group of young people were seated. Five faultless courses were served during the delicious dinner. The color scheme was also presented in the ice cream and mints. The affair ended with a visit to the movies and completed the pleasant even for the party which was composed of Misses Kathleen Luking and Mable Banks, attractive Connersville girls, Mary Ellen Carroll, Helen Osborne and Earl Osborne, Edmund Kelly, Will Michaels and Willard Bearly, the last two also from Connersville.

SHAKESPEARE DISCUSSED

"Shakespeare," was the inexhaustive topic, which the ladies of the Sorosis Club of Glenwood discussed yesterday afternoon, when they were entertained by Mrs. Ollie Britt at her home. The rooms were made to present a festive appearance for the happy gathering with beautiful and gay bunches of red carnations arranged tastefully in the rooms where the ladies were received. Responses to the roll call were quotations from Shakespeare. In her report of Current events, Mrs. T. E. Murphy gave the latest moves of the war and a short resume of the political position of our country today. The story of the "Merchant of Venice" was told by Mrs. Cora Paxton and several interesting comments made. Miss Jessie Jeffrey reviewed "Hamlet," making it especially interesting with personal opinions. Not a lunch, but a two course dinner was served at the close of the program. It was delicious and beautifully appointed. The guests, aside from the fourteen club members present, included Mrs. Mitchell of Liberty and Mrs. Cameron.

LADIES AID

Valentine colors, cleverly carried out, made the basement of the Christian church a pretty background for the meeting which was held there yesterday afternoon. With Mrs. John H. Frazee, Mrs. C. A. Mauzy, Mrs. O. E. Humes and Mrs. Edwin Payne as hostesses, with red crepe paper draped gracefully and a number of red hearts suspended from the ceiling, a beautiful scenic effect was created.

A good attendance was present to take part in the business meeting and to enjoy the social gathering during which sewing and interesting chat made the hours busy ones. The small tables, on which the guests were served, were placed in a letter A, representing the Aid Society. The room was lit by the red Valentine candles, which decorated each of these prettily set tables. Tiny red hearts were scattered here and there upon the tables and a bewitching little Valentine favor was at each place. The luncheon was delicious, and especially so because of the pretty surroundings. The Misses Marie Clawson and Mary Smith furnished several beautiful piano duets and solos, as the refreshments were served. Following this comic valentines with witty verses were distributed and caused much merriment as they were read.

COOKING AND SEWING FOUND TO BE INTERESTING STUDY

Paper on "Our Class Work in Domestic Science" by Nellie McClanahan, Which Was Read at the Orange Institute is Widely Praised.

The paper on the theme, "Our Class Work in Domestic Science," by Nellie McClanahan which was read at the Orange institute recently, has been widely praised by those who heard it. The paper follows:

This year in Domestic Science we have had a good time. In saying this I hope that no disparagement is cast upon our class spirit or management, but the highest praise bestowed upon each. Unless we get some enjoyment from a subject there is little reason for studying it. Last Fall I took Domestic Science merely to get the necessary number of credits and yet avoid Physics. I discovered, greatly to my surprise, that I almost liked the study of cooking and sewing, although I had formerly regarded a life filled with the routine of housework to be as tedious and monotonous as breaking stone under the warden's supervision, up at Michigan City.

Our class is composed of ten girls, recruited from the seventh, eighth, ninth, and eleventh grades, and ranging in age from twelve to sixteen years. This dissimilarity unfair since it gives the older girls a slight advantage—is unavoidable because no other arrangement is possible. We have a forty-minute recitation period each Thursday and Friday and take cooking and sewing on alternate weeks. In both subjects the work is in two divisions; lectures and experiments; that is, theory and practice.

When we began lecture work in sewing we studied textiles in a general way and then learned the conditions surrounding the growth and manufacture of each of the four fabrics, cotton, linen, silk, and wool. From this we proceeded to the history of spinning and weaving and found that weaving probably began with the mats and baskets which the pre-historic women made of rushes—how the people of the Orient wove fine linens and tapestries on their crude looms, many hundreds of years ago—in what manner the spinning wheel and loom were used by the early New Englanders—and, lastly, we reviewed the slow evolution of methods which resulted in the complex, high-powered machinery found in modern mills. We girls always bring paper and pencils to class so that we may take notes on the more important topics. Then we spend considerable time trying to read at leisure what we have written in haste. As much as can be deciphered is copied in our notebooks, and our creative faculties are used for determining the remainder. I recommend this course as very stimulating to the imagination.

We have had less of actual sewing than of lecture work. At the beginning of the term the younger girls were taught the eight fundamental stitches. Later we hem-stitched and embroidered, the guests towels which are on exhibition here today.

In our lecture work on food we first studied the subject from a dietary viewpoint. We learned the five classes of food, nutrients; protein, fat, carbohydrates, water, and mineral matter—the part each plays in our physical well-being and the food-stuffs in which it is found. From this we succeeded to the different fruits and vegetables, their nutritive values, and their best methods of preparations. All this material is placed in our note-books, together with the recipes tested in the laboratory.

Our cooking lessons are usually very lively. When nearly a dozen girls are together in a small kitchen, two of them trying a new recipe, the others laughing, nibbling crackers, comparing bits of jewelry, and taking gymnastic exercise, perfect order should not be expected, and, in truth, is not demanded by that wise young woman who is our teacher. We are just a number of normal, fairly healthy, young animals, not the state militia at a public drill. What trifling offense we commit are due to the exuberance of youth and the laws of nature which, as some philosopher—was it not Rousseau?—has shown us, are the only laws, after all.

On the whole, our culinary experiments have been interesting rather than eatable, although there are marked exceptions to this sweeping statement. In order that I can not possibly be accused of boastfulness I shall tell only of our less fortunate attempts. You see, we usually spend more time bemoaning our failures than we do congratulating ourselves upon our good luck. That's human nature.

Once we made scalloped rice. There was nothing in particular the matter with this rice except that we left out the salt, which neglect gave it the flattest, most peculiar taste imaginable. But we fed some of it to the other teachers and they ate it manfully, with such determination that I have, even since regarded them with increased respect. On another occasion we concocted tomato soup which, it is sad to relate, curdled. As this is not an extraordinary occurrence, it deserves no more than passing notice. A few weeks ago we planned to prepare prune whip, but in our temporary absence the prunes were scorched so much that they irreparably damaged the kettle and their odor permeated the school-house. It is almost unnecessary to state that the prune whip was indefinitely postponed.

The cooking of the class is, as I have said, done by two girls. Two more, chosen at the teacher's discretion, afterwards wash the dishes and put things to rights. Strange to say, in the laboratory we are always imbued with the zeal for work, while under similar conditions at home we are afflicted with headaches or difficult history lessons.

All in all, we're not a model class—as you've probably concluded several paragraphs ago. At the beginning of the term a few pupils had a trying task in learning to wear their thimbles correctly. Most of us have a puzzling and rather provoking habit of losing our scissors and other sewing supplies at recitation time. Then we know how to sympathize with the three old women whom Perseus found in his quest of the Gorgon's head, who having but one eye in common among them had to pass it continually. Scattered through our note-books—which have been mentioned so often in this memorable class-history—are mistakes in spelling and in punctuation, in grammar and in sentence structure, which would drive an English professor crazy, in fact, would drive almost any one crazy except our saintly instructor, who can make marginal corrections with a countenance, as serene as that of Mona Lisa.

Despite our occasional misdemeanors which are mistakes of the head and not of the heart, we have taken this work seriously and profited by it. At least I have; and I am sure the other girls thing the same. Our class work in Domestic Science has not been very practical in nature, for we have too limited time and equipment to accomplish much along this line unless supplemented by home work—but it has aroused our interest in the principles of right living. We have learned the underlying principles of sewing. Our study of cooking has made us realize that a balanced ration is just as essential for humans as for hogs. To what extent we shall actually use this knowledge of cooking and sewing I cannot say; I have no inclination to be class prophet. But this fact remains: that no matter what we do in future years the learning thus acquired will not come amiss, whether we become housekeepers, suffragettes, or lady hoboes.

Gums shrinking? Danger ahead!

Go now to a mirror and examine your mouth! Do your gums look "ripped out," shrunken? Do you see a jagged appearance in the gum-line?

If so, see your dentist. He will tell you that you have pyorrhea, and that to save your teeth you will have to fight this dread disease at once.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco at your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Santal Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Kokomo Farmer Declares Master
Medicine Tanlac Was Boon
to His Home.

ABLE TO DO HOUSEWORK

New Preparation Proves Its Efficacy
After Very Brief
Trial

Kokomo, Ind., Feb. 9.—"Tanalac helped my wife more than all other medicines she ever tried," Charles Sloan, a well known farmer who lives on rural route No. 6, Kokomo, said a few days ago.

"Mrs. Sloan has suffered from rheumatism for more than three years. Severe pains in her hips and limbs constantly bothered her, and would continue after she went to bed, so that it was seldom that she got more than three or four hours of actual rest. It was getting so that she hardly could get around, for, besides the rheumatism, Mrs. Sloan had stomach trouble, and her condition was very poor.

"Tanalac was so highly recommended that we decided to try it. She has taken three bottles of the medicine now, and is improved ever so much. She sleeps much better now; is able to walk around all she desires, and has improved so that she can work. Tanlac is the only one of the many medicines Mrs. Sloan tried, that has actually given relief."

Tanalac is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, and is a fine reconstructive tonic, proving of benefit to those suffering from the after effects of hard coughs, colds, la grippe and the like.

Tanalac is now sold exclusively in Rushville at F. E. WOLCOTT'S Drug Store.

WILL MAKES MANY SMALL BEQUESTS

Late Samuel Reeves Provides For Division of His Estate Follow ing Death of His Wife.

FOUR CHURCHES REMEMBERED

The will of the late Samuel Reeves of Knightstown, formerly of Rush county, has been probated in the Henry circuit court. Mr. Reeves was killed by fumes from a hard coal burner about two weeks ago. The will of Mr. Reeves leaves the entire estate, after all debts are paid to his wife, Amanda Reeves, for her use as she sees fit, during her lifetime. After her death the estate is to be divided as follows, according to the terms of the will:

One thousand dollars each to the Christian church, the Friends church, the M. E. church, and Presbyterian church of Knightstown and the town library; $500 to his brother Aaron, and in case his brother is then dead it shall be divided among the children of the latter's grandchildren, the children of Ben Keith; $500 to his nephew, Munson Reeves, his sister Josephine Ellison, his sister, Genoa Trowbridge, his wife's nephew, Alva Rhodes, his wife's niece, Anna Walker and to his wife's niece, Eva Millikan. In case there is not enough of the estate to fill the bequests, two-thirds of what is left is to be used to proportion the first six bequests and the last eight are to receive equal shares of the remaining one-third. No value has been placed upon the estate.

SECOND TEAM DEFEATED.

The Orange Independents defeated the Rushville high school second team last night by the score of 30 to 18. The local team was handicapped by the weight of the Orange team but put up a good game. Pierson and Meyers played a good game for Rushville.

STIVERS DROPS FROM THE RACE

Republican Editor of Liberty Becomes Candidate One Day and Withdraws the Next.

HIS TIME IS TOO LIMITED

Learns That Stage is Set For Warm
Contest Between D. M. Com-
stock and P. J. Lynch.

C. W. Stivers, editor of the Liberty, Ind., Herald, who made an announcement Monday of his candidacy for the Republican congressional nomination has announced his withdrawal from the contest. Ill health and lack of time to make a campaign are assigned as the reasons for his action. Stivers also admits that he does not desire to interfere in the fight for this nomination now being waged between Judge Comstock and P. J. Lynch. His statement follows:

To the Republicans of the Sixth District:

"Yielding to an honorable ambition and the suggestions of kind friends, I filed my declaration of candidacy for the Republican nomination for congress with the secretary of state. It was my intention to have done this some time since but illness prevented.

"Within the past week I have been in six counties of the district and have learned that the stage is set for a very warm contest between Judge D. W. Comstock of Wayne and Patrick J. Lynch of Henry with some degree of feeling because of what happened at the Cambridge City convention two years ago.

"Suffice to say that what I have learned within a few days, and in view of the limited time to put my candidacy before the voters of the district I have decided not to enter the race, and my name will not appear on the primary ballots. Imperative necessity of a united Republican party in this campaign is apparent to every voter who believes in the principles of the party of Lincoln and McKinley. Let us clear the decks and insure our country's welfare by carrying our standards to victory next November. With loyalty to our party and its chosen nominees."

The first division of the Pastor's Aid society of the Main Street Christian church will give a penny supper Friday evening, Feb. 11 in the basement of the church from 5 to 7 o'clock. Lots of good things to eat. Everybody invited. 285t3

Some Have to Keep on Until
They Almost Drop. How
Mrs. Conley Got Help.

Here is a letter from a woman who had to work, but was too weak and suffered too much to continue. How she regained health—

Frankfort, Ky.—"I suffered so much with female weakness that I could not do my own work, had to hire it done. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I tried it. I took three bottles and I found it to be all you claim. Now I feel as well as ever I did and am able to do all my own work again. I recommend it to any woman suffering from female weakness. You may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. JAMES CONLEY, 516 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice.—It will be confidential.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE— DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive, and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

FATE OF SEVERAL VESSELS IN DOUBT

(By United Press.)

New York, Feb. 9.—Anxiety for the fate of several large passenger carrying trans-Atlantic liners was felt here today following the circulation of reports that a British ship had been captured or sunk in mid-ocean by an armed commerce raider; possibly the same that captured the Appam.

Steamship men believe the liner was the 5,358-ton Orissa from Liverpool. The Orissa left Chillian port on December 26 for Liverpool, stopping at Rio de Janeiro on January 10, and although she carried a first class wireless, no word has been heard from her according to advices received here. How many passengers she carried is not known.

A certain postmaster in a Wayne county town had recently made a pilgrimage to Richmond to tell "how hard I am on the laboring man." He said he did not see how any Wayne county postmaster at the present time could "leave his job long enough to eat or sleep, much less leave his post and go to another town to circulate malicious stories about a fellow Democrat whom he will have to vote for this fall." This sally was greeted with applause and laughter.

He added that men who had never in their lives paid a dollar of wages to a working man should not be the first to criticize him.

Lantz pointed out that there were boys in his shop earning $2.50 a day and that the two local lawnmower factories paid fifteen per cent higher wages than any other factories of the kind in the world. He invited any one to visit his factory to learn from his employees and from his books, the treatment he has accorded his men and the wages he has paid them.

cause it cannot escape the eyes of the assessors.

Intangible personal property, such as stocks and bonds, moneys and credits, mortgages, etc., will be considered. Because such personal property is not open to view and because much of it is listed as non-taxable there are many, who believe it does not bear its share. Campbell said the commission will ask the question, "are you trying to tax something that cannot be taxed properly and that never has been taxed?"

Railroads and interurbans, banks and insurance companies will surrender data from which will be learned whether they bear their share of the burden.

In every case the line will lead back to whether the fault is in the system or in the administration, if there is a fault, said Campbell. Campbell explained the Indiana system as based on the general property tax with a strong centralized administration. Assessments are regulated by a central authority that are paid liberally. The administration is divided into four branches, the state board, a tax commissioner the county board of review, the county assessor, and the township assessor.

BRANDEIS WINS HIS FIRST FIGHT

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 9.—Louis Brandeis, whose fitness for the supreme court bench is being investigated by a joint committee from the senate won his first scrimmage today when a motion by Senator Clark to drop the matter to the decision of the judiciary committee was defeated. Clark and Cummins, Republicans, favored the motion and Chairman Chailton and Walsh, Democrats opposed it. The entire committee is regarded as unfavorable to Brandeis, while in the sub-committee, it is believed, he has an even chance or better.

A crowd packed the committee room. There was not seats enough for half of the crowd.

"I charge that Louise D. Brandeis is guilty of breach of faith," declared Clifford Thorne, Iowa railroad commissioner, first witness before the senate sub-committee today. Thorne declared that the president's nominee betrayed a trust in one of "the gravest and one of the most important cases ever tried in this country," the five per cent rate case.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there is no need of having a yellow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective.

They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone by keeping up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
